Protecting Your School With AAID's Visitor Tracking, Emergency Evacuation and Mustering Solutions

ATLANTA, Ga. – AAID Security Solutions introduces their long range RFID campus safety emergency evacuation and mustering solutions for schools.

Being prepared and having emergency evacuation and mustering plans in place are essential to all school districts. The question we should really ask is not do your schools have them, but do they work when an emergency arises. AAID's ultra long range hands-free RFID readers allow school and local officials/first responders to know in Real-Time what students, staff and visitors were in the building at the time of the emergency, where they were, who got out, and who is still inside.

AAID Ultra Long Range Readers provide long range zone coverage that can read multiple AAID tags simultaneously at a location with adjustable ranges from .5 to 2000 + feet, thus enabling you to know which zone or area of the campus the students, faculty and visitors are when and after the emergency occurs.

Read range adjustable directional and omni-directional antennas can be discretely installed in the school's ceilings, walls, or doorways to identify and track personnel tag locations.

The cell phone size readers communicate simultaneously in RS-232, RS-485, TTL, or TCP-IP protocol formats for custom personnel and asset control software applications, or in 26 or 32 bit Wiegand formats for access control systems.

These unique "passive" readers cannot cause interference with other electronic equipment in the school or jam other AAID readers if their read fields overlap each other unlike "active" RFID readers. When using AAID's "passive" readers you are able to have full zone coverage of the entire facility without gaps in the inventory zone fields.

AAID Security Solutions is headquartered in Peachtree City, GA. They are an OEM Manufacturer and Distributor of ultra long range readers and tags for vehicle identification and gate control, asset loss prevention and real-time inventory monitoring, employee access control, visitor tracking, emergency evacuation and mustering applications.
